

We travel. XM instant traffic and weather is a necessary tool when traveling across the many states that do not have local stations with up to date travel and weather information. In addition, we've tried the weather radio station, but it has too many places where you cannot receive it. Without XM instant travel and weather, we'd be driving unsafely. How? By focusing on changing radio stations rather than on the road.

Xm radio can be accessed anywhere anytime. Adding the weather and traffic only enhances our driving experience.

Most important, in these days of terror threats, it allows us access to instant reports.
